

Wronghut takes the wooden labyrinth to the next level with Mazement!

Tampere, Finland - April 11th 2013 - Wronghut is proud to announce the release of Mazement, available now in the App Store for iPhone, iPod Touch, iPhone and on iPad. Mazement is a ball rolling puzzle that combines an epic fantasy story with the traditional wooden labyrinth and platformer games.

The player controls the tilt of the playing field to guide the ball through increasingly difficult 3D levels which are filled with challenging mazes, traps and enemies. The goal is to find the way out of from an ancient tower and set your ball friends free! The game is controlled by the device's accelerometer, but virtual joystick support is on its way for those of you who don't tilt.

The key features

- Great 3D graphics and physics
- Epic storyline with beautiful illustrations
- Destructible environment
- Power-ups including a wall breaking Fireball, flying with Big Jump, floating with Zero Gravity, and more
- Collectable coins and power-up shop
- Traps, puzzles and enemies
- End bosses!
- Mysterious witch and eggmode!

"Mazement sets new standards for rolling ball games by introducing a story, characters and a destructible environment. This is our first game and we are very excited about its release. Gamers will expect more from ball rolling games from now on", says Jukka Mikkonen, the CEO and game designer of Wronghut.

We have now optimized the game further and plan to release it on new platforms in the very near future. Mazement will be available next on Android and we also plan to release more content for Mazement later on.

The Mazement App is now available worldwide with a price of $1.99 from the App Store on iPhone, iPad and iPod touch, or directly from www.itunes.com/appstore
